

Process for bringing new working groups to the MFA Forum

1. Anyone may propose a new working group for the MFA Forum participants to participate in.
2. At least one person must take the lead to write a proposal for review.
3. A representative will then bring the proposal to ExCo to assess appetite and interest and answer initial questions.
4. The proposal will be circulated to the MFA Forum.
5. The proposal will be presented at an international convening for discussion and approval/denial by MFA Forum participants.
6. The Secretariat then collects the contact information for participants interest in actively working on the WG.
7. The first teleconference is scheduled with discussion on objectives and outputs.
